$11,200,000 Figure Gets Board Approval After Two Hearings

BY JOHN WUBBARD

It will cost approximately $11,200,000 to run San Mateo County's government during the next fiscal year.

The exact total of the expenditure budget, adopted Tuesday by the board of supervisors, has not yet been figured by County Controller Fred Beer.

But the $11,000,000 plus estimate will be very close to the compiled total.

It will be an all-time record high for the county—almost $3,000,000 more than the $8,671,236 allowed by the supervisors for this fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Taxpayers, however, it was pointed out, won't be hit quite so hard as it might seem at first glance.

Probably less than $5 million will have to be raised by county taxpayers.

That would be only slightly higher than the approximately $4 million levy for this year.

An estimated $3,400,271 of the total budget allocated to old age security under the state's new welfare program will be raised by state taxes.

And almost $4 million will be met by county revenue and fund balances.

Means of meeting the county's budgeted expenditures for fiscal 1949-50 will be figured out by the supervisors in the next two months.

According to Beer, the tax rate and revenue budget should be ready for approval by Aug. 15.

Little was said from the expenditure budget during the two days of public hearings on the budget concluded yesterday by the supervisors. The figure they went into the hearings with—$11,178,546—has not been appreciably changed, either upward or downward.

Some more additions and subtractions have been made.

Biggest slicing job was done by the board in conferences with department heads of the government last month. The heads had asked a total of $11,995,055, and the supervisors trimmed that down approximately $800,000.

There is a possibility, it was pointed out, that next year's total to be raised by county taxes may be no higher than this year's.

No definite answer will be available to the tax amount question until Beer and his staff finish their work on the county's expected revenue income for fiscal 1949-50.

MP Tax Rate May Drop Five Cents

City Mgr. Cecil Longson submitted a tentative $176,214 budget for 1949-50 to the Menlo Park City Council this week and proposed a tax rate five cents less than this year's.

The council set June 28 at 8 p.m. as the time for a budget and tax rate hearing.

Longson said revenues during 1949-50 are estimated at $184,862, based on an assessed valuation of $6,500,000. By adding a $40,000 cash balance expected to be on hand when the current fiscal year ends June 30, the city will have an estimated $224,862 to work with, he declared.

Subtracting the proposed $176,214 budget from this amount leaves a $48,648 reserve fund, Longson said.

He proposed a tax rate of $1.20, including $1 for general government, 10 cents for the retirement fund, and 10 cents for civic center bond redemption.

The bond redemption tax is five cents less than it was last year, he explained, because the growth of Menlo Park's population through annexations provides a broader tax base.

By departments, the proposed budget breaks down as follows: General government—$37,910; police—$55,748; streets—$47,255; parks—$13,553; recreation—$14,600; building inspection—$7,143. The breakdown by categories is:

Salaries and wages—$99,345; maintenance and operations—$65,038; capital outlay—$4315; retirement fund—$7516.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess pointed out that the proposed budget compares favorably with the current year's budget of $141,950, considering the increase in population and area. "Expenditures will be on approximately the same basis, considering the new area," Mayor Burgess said.

Longson explained that several projects such as improvement of recreation facilities are covered by existing funds and are not included in the proposed budget.

Woman, Child Flee SM Blaze

Crackling flames awakened a San Mateo woman and her child shortly before 3 a.m. Sunday when a faulty refrigerator motor ignited and sent flames sweeping through the kitchen and living room of the house.

Mrs. Dorothy Wright of 431 Highland Ave., San Mateo, and her 5-year-old daughter, Stephanie, were asleep in the front bedroom when the fire broke out.

Mrs. Wright awakened when she heard the flames and went to the kitchen because a refrigerator motor had been causing trouble earlier in the evening. When she discovered the kitchen wall fully aflame, she dashed back to awaken her daughter.

Both ran to the home of Milton Kompst, 416 Highland Ave. Kompst called the San Mateo Fire Dept., which quelled the flames in an hour-long fight.

The damage was estimated at approximately $1000, according to Capt. Joe J. Chanteloup of the fire department.

PT&T Promotes Two Peninsulans

Two men from this area have been promoted to executive positions with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

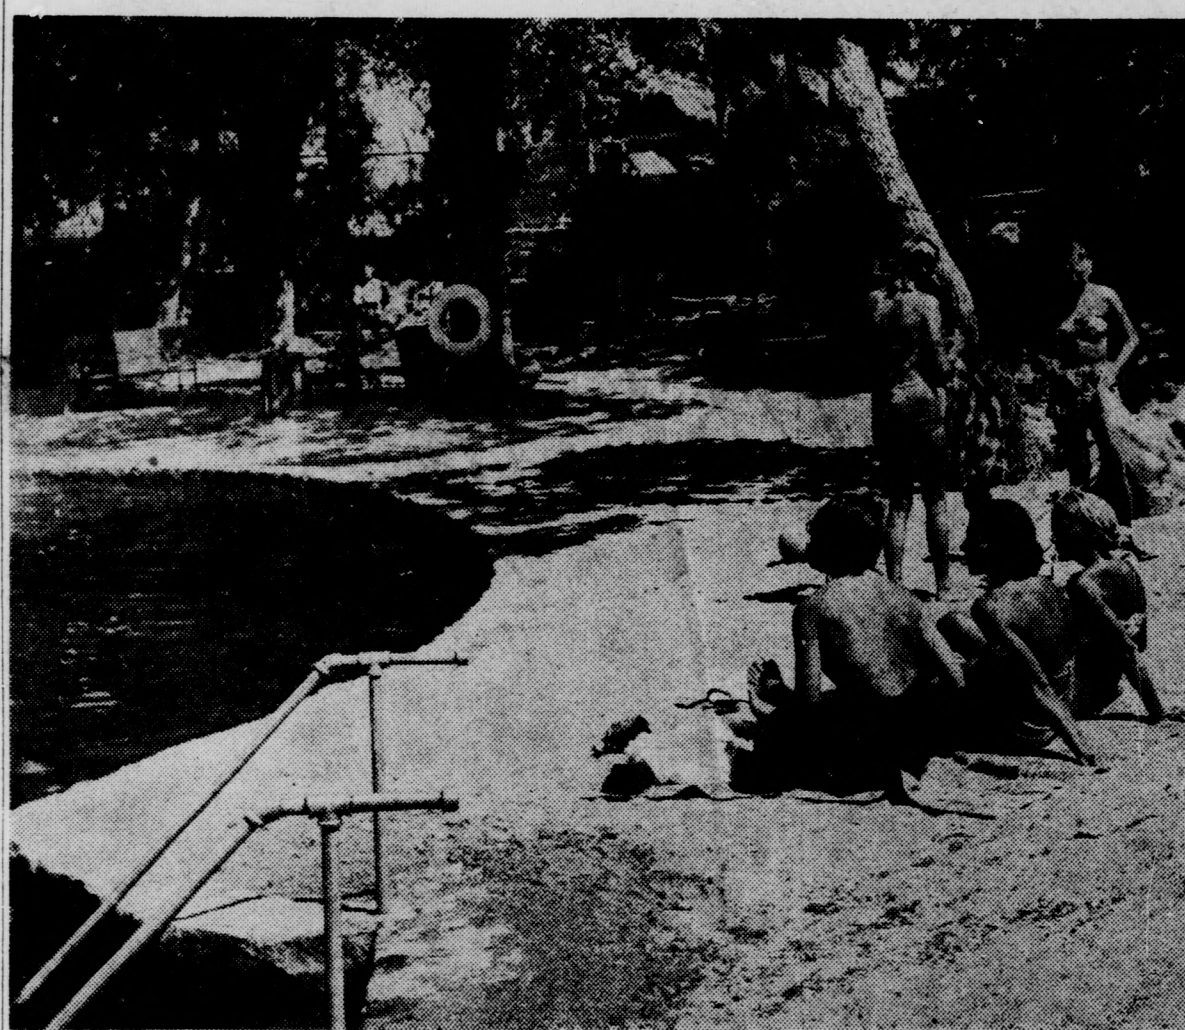

George H. Jess, 82 Flood Circle, Atherton, was named executive assistant to the president, and John M. Black, 1340 Greenwood Ave., Palo Alto, was named vice president in charge of personnel.

Jess started his career with the telephone company as a cable splicer's helper in 1910. He has served in several important capacities, recently as commercial manager of the Southern California area.

GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME — It didn't take several hundred Redwood City youngsters long to find the swimmin' hole as summer vacation started this week. They flocked to the Sequoia High School pool (above) to bask in the sunshine and paddle in the water. Below: Several young women sun themselves at the newly remodelled Emerald Lake pool which has been opened for the residents of that area. Daily public swim sessions are planned throughout the Summer at Sequoia and at Flood park.

Emerald Lake Gets 1949 'New Look'

It's swimsuit, suntan oil and cool-off time at Emerald Lake! Wearing a 1949 "new look," with a shiny galvanized steel fence all around, an attractive redwood plank ticket office and bath house, a new diving board and floats, "The Lake," as it is known to hundreds of residents of this district, is now open for the season to members, associate members and their guests.

Already, scores of fun-seeking boys and girls, recently released from school, are finding healthful release for young energy in its tempting waters, each under the eye of Michael Drew, full-time life guard.

Samples of Emerald Lake water have been analyzed and declared by authorities to be safe for swimming. Other samples will be taken at frequent intervals throughout the Summer to further safeguard the health of the hundreds of men, women and children who will use the lake throughout the season.

Directors of the Emerald Lake Country Club, which comprises the lake and its facilities, are planning a full schedule of swimming events, contests, breakfast parties and other community activities throughout the Summer.

Henry H. Collins Gets Promotion

Henry H. Collins of Redwood City, commanding officer of 149th AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion (Self-Propelled), California (Self-Propelled), has been notified by the adjutant general, State of California, of promotion from major to lieutenant colonel.

Colonel Collins started his military career as a private in the 250th Coast Artillery Battalion, California National Guard, San Francisco. He earned his original commission as a second lieutenant on March 5, 1938.

During World War II, Colonel Collins saw duty in Alaska and Ft. Scott. He assumed command of the 681st AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion (Mobile) on April 17, 1948, and when the unit was redesignated the 149th AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion (Self-Propelled) he remained as commanding officer.

Also notified of promotion from first lieutenant to captain was Lawrence W. Critchley of San Mateo. Captain Critchley was commanding officer of an infantry cannon company in the European Theater of Operation during World War II. Captain Critchley is at present the commanding officer of Headquarters Battery, 149th AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion (Self-Propelled), California National Guard at San Mateo.

San Jose Official Believed Suicide

The body of a San Jose finance official was found yesterday in a Santa Cruz County stream under a 75-foot high bridge. The man was Charles M. Baldasini, 46, secretary of the California Finance and Security Co.

Two Men Own Same Lot? Well That's What They Think

George Dunand learned Monday at a Redwood City Planning Commission session that he does not own a lot on Edgewood Rd. near El Camino Real.

For several months Dunand has been trying to get the commission to rezone the land from single family to multiple dwelling. He had put up a deposit on the lot which was owned by A. B. Peterson of San Marino. The joker was that he was not to buy formally until the rezoning was accomplished.

The rezoning, however, ran into heavy going as Edgewood Rd. residents turned out in force several times to protest. Finally the commission appeared ready to make a compromise and approve rezoning the land so that it could be used for a duplex.

Last night as the commission started work on the project, Ben Silverstein, a real estate agent, stood up and asked that the same lot be rezoned so that it would be used for a medical office. That would be in an R-2 zone. Dunand was seeking an R-2 zone.

The commission asked where Silverstein came into this thing, anyway. Silverstein replied that he came into it because he owned the lot. Dunand said he owned it. There was nothing but confusion.

Finally Silverstein explained that an option Dunand had to buy the land had expired and that on June 8 he had picked up the option and bought the lot to which he claims he holds a deed.

Faced with two applications for rezonings of the same lot, the commission decided to postpone the whole thing for a couple of weeks in the hope that by then the ownership can be straightened out.

Dennis L. Woodman Opens Law Practice

Dennis L. Woodman, recent graduate of the Golden Gate College Law School, has opened his law offices at 556 El Camino Real in Redwood City.

Woodman, of 1002 Warren St., has been a Redwood City resident for the past four years. He is married and has a boy, 6, and a girl, age 2.

Woodman was admitted to practice in California courts yesterday in ceremonies in the State Supreme Court at the Civic Center in San Francisco.

Toastmasters Record Program

Through the cooperation of Kenneth Beach, local electronics engineer, the Redwood City Toastmasters Club met at the studio of Ampex Electric Co. in San Carlos Tuesday and staged a program which was recorded on the Ampex magnetic tape recorder.

Harold Lindsay, Ampex engineer, handled the details of the recording and play-back of the program.

John E. Newman, deputy governor of the Toastmasters Club, served as program chairman of the evening and presented the following members of the local club: Dr. John Babcock, Charles Baker, Donald L. Bogie, Otto Burmeier, Myron H. Harman, Glenn Jain, Dr. C. Burke Miles, Merwin Traver, Laureus Wise, Albert Wolff, William G. Phoenix and John Cardwell.

The Redwood City Toastmasters Club is one of the oldest in the world, holding charter 27. It was founded in 1934 and has been in continual operation since that date as a part of the Sequoia Evening High School class in public speaking. This club is unique in that it has always had the services of a professional evaluator. For the past two semesters, David Grant, professor at Stanford University, has served as critic for the local club.

Since the semesters of the Sequoia High School are the same as those followed by the local Toastmasters Club, there will be no further meetings until Sept. 12.

Swim Program Starts Saturday

The Redwood City Recreation Dept. - American Red Cross swimming program will get underway Saturday at the Sequoia High School pool between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon.

Howard Bogie, San Jose State Teachers College student, will head the learn-to-swim program and will be assisted by Loren Dennison, Bob King, Bob Anderson and Malkah Wolper.

Up until noon yesterday there were a few more openings for Redwood City boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 11 to sign up. If there are any boys or girls interested in the learn-to-swim program they should report to the American Red Cross office on Broadway.

Supervisors Appoint Ferrell's Assistant As Successor to Post

San Mateo County Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell's successor — when Ferrell retires on July 1 — will be his present assistant, Louis B. Dematteis.

Dematteis, appointed as assistant by Ferrell last October, is 37 years old. He lives at 823 Blandford Ave., Redwood City.

His elevation to district attorney was made Tuesday by the county board of supervisors.

The board appointed Dematteis as district attorney, effective July 1 — when Ferrell retires, after reaching the retirement age of 70.

Dematteis took over the assistant's job, leaving his private

Speed Plans For RC Rodeo Celebration

Plans were moving ahead on five fronts today as Redwood City's two-week Fourth of July celebration was being readied for its opening tomorrow night.

First event is the "kick-off barbecue" tomorrow at Flood Park which will herald the opening of "Dress-Up Days." The barbecue, cosponsored by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce and the Mounted Patrol of San Mateo County, is expected to attract about 800 persons, according to K. B. (Pete) Towne, chairman of the mounted patrol's arrangements committee.

On a second front the queen's contest committee announced that seven girls are covering the Peninsula in a ticket selling battle to determine the finalists for the judging which will be a feature of the Queen's Ball, June 25. The committee handling the contest announced this week that two Hollywood personalities will be in Redwood City to select the winner that night.

Rodeo Mgr. Sanford T. Ratliff reported that format for this year's official rodeo program is now drawn, and the program committee under the direction of Charles Mitchell plans to send the 28-page souvenir edition to the printers within 10 days. This year's advertising solicitation was handled by Bert Johnson.

Meanwhile, plans were underway for a "horse auction" July 2 and 3 in the E. H. Bean building adjoining the rodeo grounds. W. I. Turk, who is handling arrangements for the auction, announced that quarter horses will be featured at the July 2 sale, and Tennessee Walkers at the July 3 auction. Proceeds are going toward the purchase of a permanent home for the rodeo, and Auctioneer Rusty Van Buren is turning his commissions over to the sponsoring Peninsula Celebrations Assn.

Tuesday night about 200 from Redwood City, many garbed in western attire, attended Redwood City Night at the Ice Follies. Winterland was decorated with banners advertising the rodeo in Redwood City July 2, 3 and 4.

Save Woman From Cliff

A 35-year-old San Francisco woman spent three hours Saturday night halfway up precipitous Devil's Slide on San Mateo County's Coastside, frozen with fear, unable to move.

She was rescued from a narrow ledge 300 feet below the top of the slide by Deputy Sheriffs Don Hartnett and James Beatty.

According to Hartnett, Mabel Soares had been on a picnic at the bottom of the slide with William Turner, 35, San Francisco. They descended the slide at noon.

As they climbed back up at 6 p.m., Miss Soares reached the half-way point and then looked back down the steep cliffside. She couldn't move, Turner told her to stay where she was, and he went up the cliff and telephoned the sheriff's office.

Hartnett and Beatty responded to the call. They put a rope over the lip of the slide. Then one of them went down and put the rope around Miss Soares and helped her up to the top, while the other pulled on the rope to ease her ascent.

She was uninjured.

Story Hours Begin Here This Week

Story hours in three Redwood City areas will get underway this week and continue throughout the summer vacation period, providing there is sufficient participation, according to Alfred Morton, city recreation director.

The story hours will be under the direction of Malkah Wolper and will be held from 9 to 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday at Hawes Park, on Wednesday at John Gill School and on Thursday at Stanford Park.

practice. For a period before the war he was chief deputy district attorney.

The district attorney's job pays $7200 a year. Ferrell, who was first elected district attorney in 1934, turned in his retirement notice yesterday afternoon to the county retirement board. It was accepted.

Dematteis' appointment will be confirmed by the supervisors at their meeting on July 5. The effective appointment was made now so that he may step into Ferrell's job gradually and have a chance to work out some of the details of his future responsibilities while Ferrell is still in office.

Dematteis has been considered the most likely candidate for the post since his appointment to assistant district attorney in October.

Only other person mentioned as likely was Harrison W. Call, Redwood City attorney and former state assemblyman.

The motion to appoint Dematteis was made to the board today by Supervisor Edward McDonald. It was seconded by Supervisor Martin Potts. The vote was unanimous.

During the war Dematteis served as an enlisted man in the navy. He was graduated from the University of San Francisco.

RC Man to Graduate From Northwestern

Walter L. Weaver, 846 Hillcrest Dr., will be among those graduating this week at Northwestern University when the university graduates the greatest number of students in the school's history.

Weaver will be awarded a degree as a bachelor of medicine. Robert G. Stimmel, 2261 S. Court, Palo Alto, will be awarded a degree as a bachelor of science.

The ceremonies will take place today on the campus at Evanston, Ill.

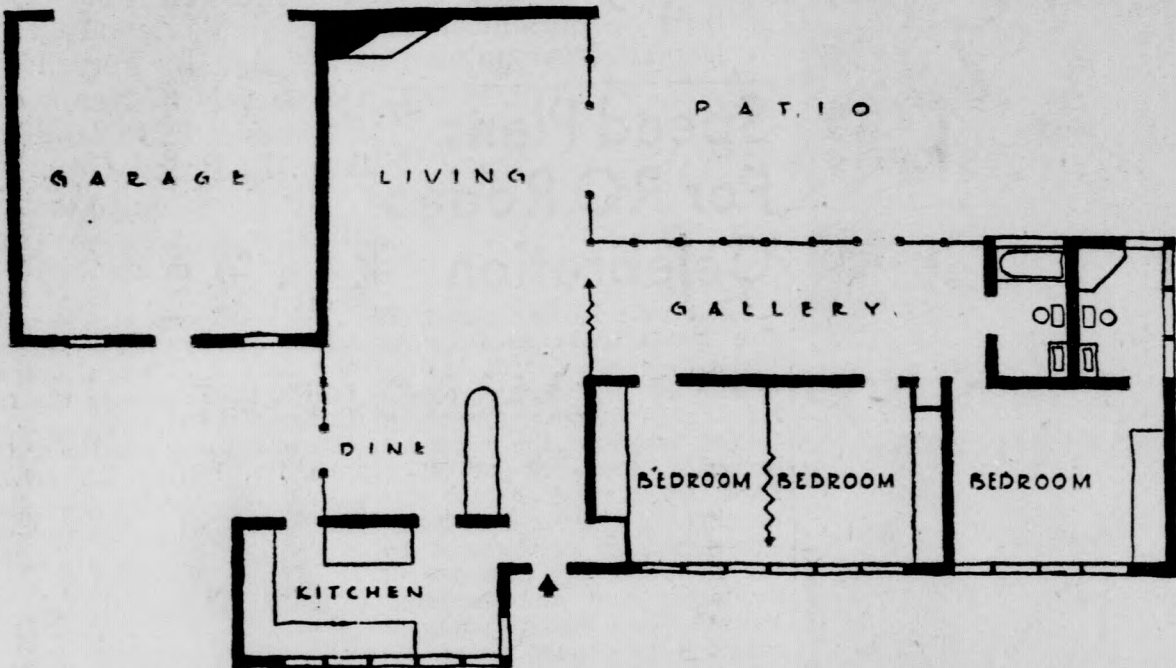

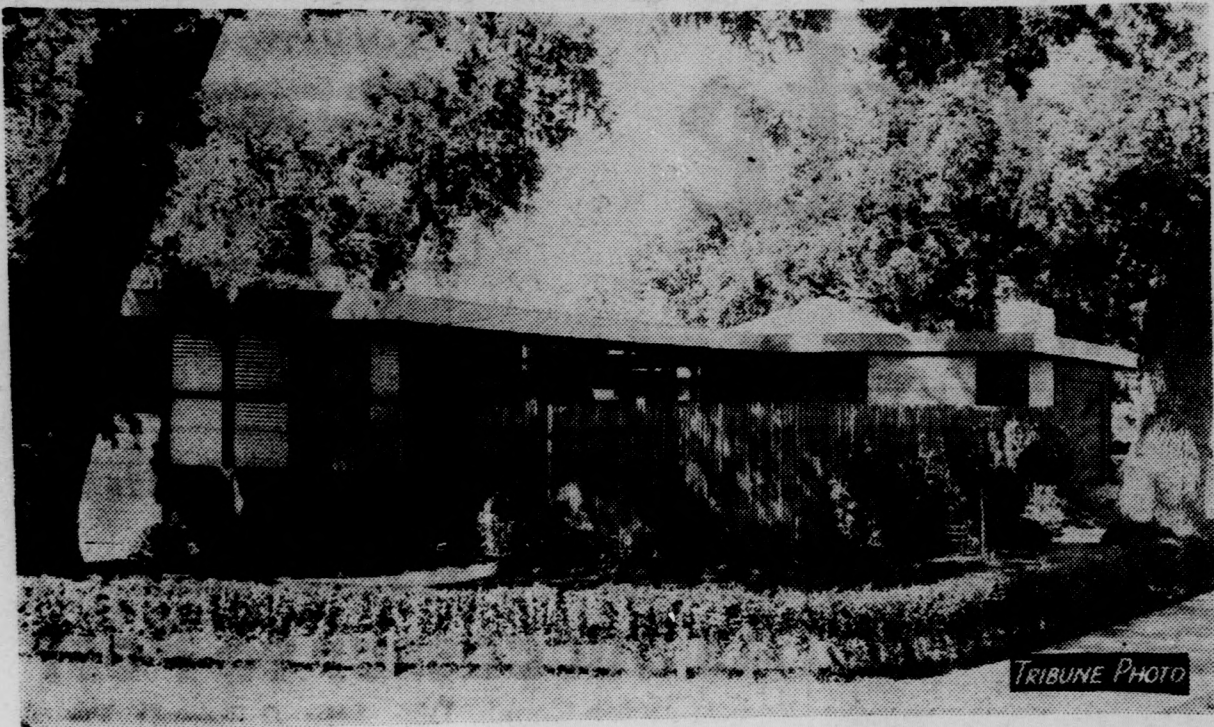

Seven Sequoia Girls On Slumber Party, But They Didn't Sleep

Seven Sequoia High School girls, all of them juniors, held a slumber party last night in East Palo Alto.

Three of the girls weren't sleepy—even at 2:30 a.m. They took a walk down Bayshore Hwy., scantily clad.

Special Dep. Charles Buttersworth, driving by in his patrol car, saw them. He sent in an urgent call to the sheriff's office for assistance. Two deputies were dispatched to help round the girls up and send them back to the home at which the party was being held.

Peninsula Homes for Americans

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Traditionally houses in America are constructed from the outside in.

That is, a building which is usually a rectangle is erected and then the inside is compartmentalized into rooms. The shape of the rooms and their size depends almost entirely on the exterior frame of the house.

More recently designers have been coming up with houses which are designed from the inside out. That is, the designers figure the number of rooms needed and their size and then a method of getting them together so that they'll be convenient for the home owners.

A designer who follows this practice is Dana McCormick of San Carlos. He has maintained that if the interior sizes and shapes of the rooms are right for living the exterior will look right when the rooms are put together.

Today's Tribune Peninsula home is one which McCormick designed for Dr. William R. Smith at 335 Park Ave. in San Carlos.

It is constructed on a corner lot, with Park running parallel to the end bedroom above and Fairmont Ave. parallel to the patio.

McCormick frequently includes a heavy use of floor to ceiling glass sliding doors as he has in this instance. The gallery above is actually a very wide hallway with sliding glass doors on one side which look out on the patio. It has been equipped with furniture and serves as sort of a second living room.

The living room is also fully equipped with glass looking out on the patio. To shield this patio from the street a grape stake fence has been constructed parallel to Fairmont. You can see from the photograph how this looks.

Exterior walls have been stained a dark brown and the overhang has been painted a light green.

Courthouse Annex Bill 'Advances'

San Mateo County's courthouse annex was a step nearer realization today following a favorable vote by a senate local government committee.

The solons gave a "do pass" recommendation to Assembly Bill 3038 by Assemblyman Richard Dolwig to permit the use of California Square for a courthouse annex.

The bill, which was approved last week by the assembly, now goes to the senate for a final decision. If the senate approves, it will be handed to Governor Warren for his signature.

Legislative approval was required when it was determined that there was a question as to the legal ownership of California Square.

Redwood City had deeded the land to the county for the annex, but title companies would not insure the land because of the question of ownership.

County officials have indicated that as soon as the land has been turned over to the county, work will start on plans for the building, and construction is expected soon afterward. The annex is expected to house the superior courts, justice court, district attorney's office and clerk's office.

Herman Lawson Estate Totals $224,794

The estate of the late Peter of 151 Alameda Ave., Atherton, was valued today at $224,794 in an inventory filed in superior court by James A. Lee, state inheritance tax appraiser.

Lawson died on June 28, 1947. He was a partner in the San Francisco plumbing and heating firm of Herman Lawson.

His interest in the company—totalled at $102,068—was willed by him to be left in trust with a San Francisco bank.

Requests of $25,000 each were made to his grandson and granddaughter, David and Meredith Gregg of 47 Ralston Rd., Atherton.

Remainder of the estate he left to his widow, Mrs. Mabel Lawson of Atherton.

1. As this young lady learns to use a training switchboard, she'll also learn many things that will be mighty important to good service. All through her training she'll see how operators make courtesy and helpfulness a normal part of their jobs. And the same spirit is present as other telephone people learn their new skills.

3. On-the-job-training here in the West is typified by this "student" who is learning the workings of a trouble indicator frame—an automatic detective that constantly makes sure the lines on its "beat" are giving good service. Even experienced employees take refresher courses like this to keep up-to-date... and keep learning their way up the ladder.

WHERE THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE BEGINS

One Coast-wide school system is for telephone people only—and better service for the West is the result

2. On stubby poles like these, linemen learn to use their new climbing equipment. This is just one of the more than one hundred courses that telephone people study in towns large and small—up and down the Coast. In 1948, thousands of employees received training. That means thousands of men and women better able to furnish good service to you.

4. Good service for you comes from telephone people who know their jobs. You can help them serve you best by making sure you always have the right number in mind before calling, leaving a little time between calls, giving the called person time to answer.

Fisherman Drowns at Devil's Slide

A San Leandro automobile repairman drowned Sunday in the surf at the bottom of San Mateo County's Devil's Slide.

His body had not been recovered by noon today.

Herbert E. Wahaus, 55, was washed from his perch atop Saddle Rock by a big wave yesterday morning. His body, kept afloat by air inside his leather jacket, floated in the surf near shore until noon—almost three hours after he drowned.

Then it was washed under Saddle Rock, and when the coast guard air, sea and land rescue squads arrived it had disappeared.

Wahaus was fishing from the rock with two companions, Charles Mead, 37, and Alfred Reed, 55, both of Oakland.

Just before the big wave washed over the rock, Mead and Reed scrambled back to shore at the bottom of the slide. They told Wahaus they thought the rock might be submerged by the wave. But he laughed at them, and said his fishing spot was safe.

Then the wave struck.

AUTO STOLEN HERE

Theft of an automobile was reported yesterday by Lee Sheridan, 697 Oak Park Way, to Redwood City police. Sheridan said the 1940 Mercury was taken from a parking lot near the Southern Pacific Co. station sometime between dawn and dusk yesterday, used by the navy during the war.

Tax Slots Out of Business, Juror Urges

The best way to solve the problem of slot machines in San Mateo County, according to the county grand jury's law enforcement committee, would be to "tax them out of business."

The idea would be to place such a heavy tax against "mechanical play devices"—including both those that pay off and those that don't—that their operation would be unprofitable.

County Refuses To Aid Harbor Blvd.

San Mateo County supervisors have refused to aid Redwood City and the Port of Redwood City with the repaving of Harbor Blvd.

Mayor W. M. Werder Monday received a letter from the supervisors signed by W. H. Augustus, clerk of the board.

The letter, in part, said: "Although some of the members of the board expressed a desire or hope that they could be of assistance, yet in view of the fact that such assistance would establish a precedent for granting requests of this type, and further that there are now a number of such requests on file with this board, this office was directed to inform you, that regrettable as it may be, it cannot grant your request for financial participation in this project."

The repaving of the road will cost approximately $42,000, of which the federal government will put up approximately $27,000 because of the damage done to the road when the port was between dawn and dusk yesterday, used by the navy during the war.

Dr. S. J. Guardino of San Carlos, chairman of the committee, said his group met Sunday in San Mateo, talked over the heavy tax idea and thought it might recommend such a move to the grand jury.

Then the jury, he said, if it liked the proposal, could recommend passage of a taxing law to the county board of supervisors.

The law would have the effect of "outlawing slot machines through taxation," he said.

He would like to see the yearly taxes on machines in the county upped from their present low level of $20 or $30 to a "prohibitive" $500 or $750 a year.

The way the law reads now in the state, it is legal to possess a pay-off machine, but illegal to operate it. That makes it tough for law enforcement officers, according to Dr. Guardino.

Just finding that kind of machine in an establishment isn't enough. The officers must also be able to prove it was in operation and paying off, he said.

The jury committee's proposal, he believes, would get around that trouble. It would tax each machine so heavily, even if it were just sitting unused in an establishment, that it wouldn't be worthwhile having it around.

The committee also discussed the county's "bookie situation".

A list of suspected bookie establishments, prepared by the district attorney's office within the last 10 days and now being checked by police, is expected to be available for jury consideration at its next meeting.

That meeting will be held, probably, on June 22.

Dr. Guardino has reported the existence of bookie establishments in South San Francisco, Daly City, San Mateo, Belmont, Redwood City, San Bruno. The contents of the district attorney's new list however, have not been disclosed.

Warehousemen Begin Strike, Peninsula Is Unaffected

CIO warehousemen began picketing 182 San Francisco Bay Area commodity distribution houses early today in a strike over wage demands. However, no places on the Peninsula are being picketed, according to union officials.

About a dozen warehouses were exempt from picketing, including that of the Lederle Drug Laboratory and the United Grocers Co. The union said this was done to assure a supply of basic commodities.

Belmont Mothers Check City Needs

A permanent organization to meet emergency school problems was formed recently by the Belmont Mothers' school committee.

Area captains are prepared to check community needs when called upon by Mrs. Fred Graetz, general chairman whose original student survey emphasized local school conditions. By districting Belmont the committee intends to inform each neighborhood of any situation which concerns school welfare.

Second purpose of the group is to ask for volunteer workers interested in developing facilities for the children at least expense. More letters to the state legislature urging passage of the impoverished school district aid bill are requested by the committee, which has a guide sheet available for parents.

Two community services planned include committee representation at both elementary and Sequoia High School board meetings, and a campaign to register all eligible voters. Active committee members are Mrs. Graetz, Mrs. Russell Wisler, Mrs. Jack Thompson, Mrs. Tom Sturges, Mrs. Ray Lang, Mrs. Charles R. Moak, Mrs. Fred Neilsen, Mrs. M. J. Stuparich, Mrs. W. W. Hawes and Mrs. Arne Herson.

Browning Opens MP Book Store

R. Harold Browning, formerly of Winnetka and North Brook, Ill., announced the opening of Browning's Ltd. at 1004 Alma St., Menlo Park, today.

The new book store will carry a complete line of fiction and non-fiction, greeting cards and stationery as well as rental library facilities and gifts. Mayor Charles Burgess and other civic dignitaries officiated at the launching of the new enterprise.

Senate Gets Series of Measures Designed to Remodel the Lower Court System in California

SACRAMENTO (WMS) — A series of measures designed to remodel the lower courts was back in the hands of the senate today following committee action. The bills, authored by Assemblyman Ralph Brown and the assembly interim judiciary committee, approved a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people at the next general election making major changes in the inferior court system. The legislature has already approved a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people at the next general election making major changes in the inferior court system.

Yellow Oleomargarine Bill Goes to Assembly for Okeh

SACRAMENTO (P) — Housewives, you probably won't have to wait much longer before you will be able to buy yellow oleomargarine already mixed.

But you, Mr. Restaurant Operator, won't be able to sell the precolored product, unless, perhaps, the courts should knock out a section of the bill.

Today the senate-amended measure—passed yesterday in the upper house 34 to 4—came back to the assembly with a compromise amendment written into prohibiting sale of the factory colored product for use in public eating places.

It looks like assembly acceptance of the amendment will be speedy, once the bill is called up. For the first time in floor debate the constitutionality of the "compromise" clause relating to restaurants and other public eating places was questioned.

Sen. Hugh P. Donnelly (D), Turlock, raised the constitutionality question when he sought unsuccessfully to amend out of the bill by Assemblyman Thomas A. Maloney (R), San Francisco, the customary "saving clause." This is one which states that if any part of the bill is declared invalid, the remainder of the measure would not be affected.

Shorn of this the entire bill lifting the 52-year-old ban on sale of yellow margarine would be made ineffective if the Supreme Court should hold it is not constitutional to permit sale to housewives and not to eating places.

Yellow margarine is expected to cost Californians approximately 11 cents a pound more than the uncolored product now sells for, because of a federal tax which will apply.

Three representatives of the senate and three of the assembly comprising a free conference committee struggled during the day to negotiate a settlement of the differences between the two houses over the state budget bill. The meetings took place behind closed doors.

The senate passed Sen. Fred Kraft's bill changing the underlying philosophy, he said, of the state unemployment insurance setup. Under the proposed interpretation, primary function of the department would be to find jobs for the jobless instead of paying unemployment benefits as a matter of routine.

One of the many changes is one tightening up the definition of "suitable employment."

Said Senator Kraft (R), San Diego: "The definition is tightened up just enough so that a pretzel vender cannot refuse employment as a pretzel salter." But, he added, "if there is a clear-cut case of unsuitable employment the right of the insured to unemployment benefits is protected. He can collect insurance if the department can't find him such employment."

The senate rules committee will open a hearing tomorrow morning into charges by Sen. Gerald O'Gara (D), San Francisco, that the Los Angeles news letter "Alert" was subsidized by Chmn. Jack Tenney (R), Los Angeles, of the un-American activities committee, by employment of the publisher at $220 a week. O'Gara contended the newsletter vilified and smeared members of the legislature opposed to some of the Tenney loyalty bills.

The assembly approved, 45 to 23, pay raises ranging from $2000 to $3500 a year for nine state directors, most of whom now receive $12,000. Assemblyman Joe C. Lewis (D), Buttonwillow, criticized the bill as "giving more cream to those who already have strawberries and cream."

Legislation to prohibit segregation in the National Guard because of race or color neared final passage. The bill by Assemblyman William B. Rumford (D), Berkeley, was endorsed by the senate military affairs committee.

CHICKEN ON WEDNESDAY—Asst. Humane Officer leads a dachshund away from the scene of the crime after the canine had played the part of a culprit and slayed two chickens belonging to Mrs. Gildo Dal Porto. Poundmaster Chester Potter reported Wednesday that the dog's owner, Karl Kerstan, had put the pooch in solitary confinement and had made restitution for the chickens, and the issue was closed.

Boy Scout News

In response to many requests from parents of boys who are unable to spend a full two weeks in camp, the San Mateo County Boy Scout Council has arranged to accept Scouts for the second session of camping at Pomponio for a minimum of six days and a maximum of 14 days.

This second session will run from July 4 to July 18 and the entire camping staff will be at Pomponio during that period exactly as it will be during the first session. The boys will be supervised just as carefully, the meals will be of the same boy-filling quality, and all the activities, swimming, handicraft, hiking, fishing, and the opportunities to advance in Scoutcraft, will be the same. It will be necessary, however, for boys to provide their own transportation.

The cost of the full two-week period will be $29 and a free camp T-shirt will be given to all Scouts registering. Scouts registering for a period of six or more days, but less than 14, will pay a registration fee of $1, and $2 a day for meals.

A deposit of $3 is required to reserve a place in the second session. Applications may be obtained at the Scout office.

Boys may check into camp on July 4, 8, 9 or 10 only. Visiting days are July 9 and 10 only.

Troop camping will also take place during this period, with Scouts camping in the Troop camping area under the supervision of their own unit leaders.

Visiting days during the first session of Camp Pomponio will be Saturday, June 25, and Sunday, June 26 only. Camp Pomponio is reached by turning off the Skyline at Alpine Rd., driving four miles, then turning again at the Camp Pomponio sign and driving another three miles. It will not be possible to provide meals or camp facilities for visitors. However facilities are available for family picnics, and Portola Park and Memorial Park are within easy driving or hiking distance and provide ample family camp sites.

County Chief Asks U.S. Bond Support

John D. Bromfield, county chairman for the Treasury Dept.'s current "Opportunity Drive," today pointed out an interesting reason why U. S. Savings Bonds are "the safest investment in the world."

"Aside from the fact that Savings Bonds can always be redeemed without loss to the investor, these securities, unlike cash, will be replaced by the government if lost, stolen or even destroyed by fire. An owner cannot lose his principal or earned interest," Bromfield said.

"Although a total of 1,200,000 separate Savings Bonds have been sold, the Treasury Dept. keeps a microfilm record of every bond issued at a special headquarters in Chicago.

"When an owner loses or accidentally destroys a bond, he merely notifies the Treasury Dept., giving the date of issue, and if available, the serial number. In a surprisingly short time, a duplicate bond is mailed to the owner."

Applications for duplicate bonds should be directed to the Division of Loans and Currency, Merchandise Mart, Chicago.

Bromfield advised bond owners to keep a record of all bonds purchased to speed the issuance of a duplicate in the event of loss.

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, in a four-car rear-end collision Saturday afternoon at the Hull Dr.-El Camino Real intersection in San Carlos.

Mrs. Lucille Shurtliff, Box 516, San Mateo, suffered a fractured leg and facial lacerations. Amos F. Shurtliff, 49, same address, driver of one of the cars, sustained minor head injuries and was released after treatment at Community Hospital.
